A Better Solution . . .

There is doubt in the logic used by The Montgomery Advertiser Thursday, March 23, in the solution offered for the quantity of the producers of the crime show entitled "The Untouchables."

This is a show about the prohibition era with its gang wars. Italian names were frequent in the production. This roused the ire of Americans of Italian extraction so the producers promised to portray no more thugs with Italian names.

The Advertiser points out that Irish names like O'Banion and Moran were as well known as Italian names like Capone, but any producer knows this would bring a louder howl from the Irish than the howl that erupted from Italians. Dinah Shore found this out last year when she let March 17 slip past without a St. Patrick's program. She had to spend most of the next program apologizing.

The Advertiser facetiously asks why they don't go all the way and ban the show from the airwaves, then the feelings of nobody would be hurt.

It would seem more logical to give all the gang leaders names like Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Jackson. It's a growing fashion to ridicule the Anglo-Saxon world and, for some reason, those with Anglo-Saxon names haven't learned the habit of seeing persecution in every traffic sign.

Respectable people long ago ceased to use such names as "Dago" and "Bohunk." But it's growing in respectability to laugh at titles of English nobility, and it never occurred to anyone to resent the radio character "Senator Claghorn" with his exaggerated mockeries of everything Southern.

No one ever thought of putting a ban on the word "Babbitt," a word which is now being replaced in many parts of the U. S. by the word "Wasp." It's the abbreviation for White Anglo-Saxon Protestant.

WANTED: More Vaccines

This iron lung is now empty—for a change. How long it and thousands of others remain empty depends upon how soon the entire nation is fully vaccinated against polio.

Almost half the U. S. population is unguarded against crippling polio.

Basel O'Connor, president of The National Foundation, has described the vulnerability of some 85 million Americans to paralytic polio as "a national disgrace."

There is no scarcity of the Salk vaccine, he pointed out, and two inoculations now, within a month's time, would provide at least some measure of protection against polio outbreaks and epidemics in the summer.

In thousands of cities, villages and hamlets across the nation, Salk polio vaccination is available at little cost, and in some communities the pre-scribed series of at least three shots is free. A fourth "booster" shot is now recommended.

"The individual's common sense and will to survive should dictate immediate vaccination," Mr. O'Connor said. "If he or she has a family, all the more urgent ground for polio protection."

The National Foundation has been joined in its nationwide appeal to the unvaccinated by the American Medical Association and the U. S. Public Health Service.

COFFEE COUNTY 4-H CLUB EVENTS

BY TOM CASADAY
Assistant County Agent

County and home demonstration agents and leaders from Covington, Coffee, Pike, and Crenshaw counties attended a meeting on the proposed Alabama 4-H Club Foundation last week.

Cecil Mayfield, 4-H Club Specialist at Auburn, discussed the purposes of the foundation. After hearing the discussion, the delegates of the 4-H Club Foundation will do a lot to strengthen and promote 4-H Club work in Alabama. In next week's column I plan to give the details of this meeting and the names of those in Coffee County who are heading it up.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Clements of Panama City, Fla., were called here to the illness of her mother, Mrs. Shofner Anderson Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rogers and children visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Wilks of Elba Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hart and family of Enterprise, were Sunday dinner guests of her mother, Mrs. Dewey Sims and sons.

Mrs. Claud Cullington of Enterprise spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McDaniel.

and malignant edema. These diseases which can live indefinitely in the soil, many times are spread during high water conditions. And for this reason, it is of utmost importance that producers intensify their efforts to prevent widespread outbreaks of these two diseases.

Every effort should be made to get cattlemen to vaccinate all cattle 18 months and younger that have not been vaccinated within the last 6 months. The common practice of waiting until calves are 3 to 4 months of age before vaccinating will not be sufficient in areas where blacking infection is a problem year after year. These two diseases can be picked up as soon as calves begin to graze. Therefore, it is recommended that calves in hot areas be vaccinated at 6 to 8 weeks of age. The minor cost of 10 to 12 cents for the bee of bacterin which would protect a potential $100 calf, would more than justify an all-out effort in controlling these diseases.

Easter Bonnet

These are the times that try women's souls

But all the mischief youthful fingers may perform can only fray the nerves and upset the budget.

You can't spoil Easter.

For Easter isn't frills and finery, Easter isn't pride and parading.

Easter is the soul's own life—bright with God's love today—rich with His promise tomorrow.

Its adornment is a world at worship... souls at one with the risen Christ... fulfilling the ageless quest for the beauty and joy which cannot perish.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

4-H Foundation Several Coffee county 4-H leaders and others attended a four-county 4-H club Foundation meeting at the Community Center, Enterprise, last week. Covington, Coffee, Crenshaw and Pike counties had representatives present. About 40 vents will be more awards for seniors and juniors and particularly for junior club members. Leaders training, both for adult and junior leaders will be expanded.

The first phase of the five-year program is the 4-H member self help program. The other one and a half million dollars will be used to construct camps for use by 4-H members and other groups.

Representative Coffee County at the meeting were Mrs. Jimmie Prestwood and Mrs. Ed Fillingim of New Hope; Robert Wise of Kingston; Paul Donaldson and Carl Brooks of Enterprise; and W. H. Taylor of Elba.
